Barcelona 2020: COLING 28th International Conference on Computational Linguistics

<https://coling2020.org/>

September 13-18, 2020
Barcelona, Spain.

The 28th International Conference on Computational Linguistics (COLING) will be held in Barcelona, Spain, from 13 to 18 September 2020. The Workshops and tutorials will be held from 13 to 14 September 2020. The main conference will be held from 15 to 18 September 2020.

The first COLING was held in New York in 1965, with the last iteration in Santa Fe, USA, in 2018. Throughout its history, COLING has brought together researchers from across the field of Computational Linguistics. COLING'2020 continues this tradition and thus welcomes papers on all topics related to both natural language and computation, with the expectation that all papers will include linguistic insight.
