CALL FOR PAPERS

Papers in all areas of Cognitive Linguistics and related research areas are welcome. We especially encourage papers exploring the general conference focus, namely the interaction of cognitive, cultural and functional aspects of language. Talks will be 20 minutes in length, followed by 10 minutes for discussion. There will be two to three parallel sessions of regular papers, plus plenary lectures.

SUBMISSION OF ABSTRACTS

The abstracts should be maximum 500 words (about one page), including references, and they should specify research question(s), approach/method/data, and (expected) results.

The abstract should be anonymous. Please, send title and abstract in an attached file (MS Word, RTF).
